

Costume Construction (BFA)

~~one of the following courses~~
This program is offered by the Leigh Gerding College of Fine Arts/
Sargent Conservatory of Theatre Arts and is only available at the St. Louis main campus.

Program Description

Webster University's Sargent Conservatory of Theatre Arts trains our future colleagues to become visionaries, creators, and leaders in the next generation of theatre professionals.

Learning Outcomes

At the end of their training, students in the Sargent Conservatory will be able to:

- Describe the cultural and historical context for theatrical practice.
- Hone strong analytical, research, organizational, and technical skills for the creation and/or performance of theatre.
- Apply skills (outcome # 2) to the production and performance of theatre encompassing a variety of styles with creativity and competence.
- Model positive and effective leadership, clear communication, and collaboration to work well with others.
- Assess power relationships and biases within the arts and society, past and present, and work to promote equity and justice through theatre via classwork and production.

Special Requirements

Only courses completed with a grade of C- or above will count toward fulfilling the specific requirements of the major.

Auditions/interviews are required for all students planning to major in theatre at Webster University. Auditions/interviews are held each year during the spring semester for entrance into the following fall session.
